beingWise – A Speranza's intiative!

Project Summary :

"beingWise" is a platform that strives to assist every aspirant in India to achieve their educational goals. It aims to cater to the aspirations of individuals by providing comprehensive information about all colleges in the country. This way, students can make informed decisions and avoid the mistakes of choosing the wrong courses or colleges.

Objective & Need: What & Why ?

Objective: We to develop a portal where we can use the JOSAA and other seat allocation databases to help the aspirants to choose their colleges wisely. According to their performance in exam (rank), and their branch preference , category and gender the portal should suggest them and makes them aware about different colleges in India. This can be what they are best in and according to that what is the best branch and college college they can choose for themselves. This can reduce in making mistakes in selecting college which is really important for any engineering aspirant.

Need :

As the current Society has these Four major issues to be tackled :

1. Lack of guidance while selecting engineering colleges.

2. High dropout rates and Lack of Awareness leading to Extreme Decisions – Social Community.

3. Lack of Right Mentorship in specific Domains. – P2P COMMUNITY.

4. Moreover, with numerous programs offered in the field of engineering, it can be challenging for students to identify the right colleges and programs to pursue. beingWise's Explore addresses this problem by providing clear information about the programs offered in various colleges. The cost of college fees can also be a significant financial burden on students and their families, leading to dropout rates.

Features :

1. Notification Service: beingWise understands the importance of deadlines and reminders during the counselling process. Therefore, the platform provides a Notification Service that ensures that aspirants remain up-to-date with important dates and deadlines. This feature helps students to keep track of their progress and remain aware of their next steps.

2. JEE Main Rank Predictor: JEE Main is one of the most competitive exams in India. To help aspirants gauge where they stand before the phase-2, beingWise provides a JEE Main Rank Predictor. This feature provides students with an estimated rank based on their JEE Main percentile. As a result, aspirants can make informed decisions about their choice of college and course.

3. Counselling College Predictors: Making the right decision when it comes to choosing a college can be challenging. To help students prioritize their options during the choice-filling stages, beingWise offers a comprehensive Counselling College Predictor. This productivity space provides students with personalized college-branch preferences based on their rank, home state, gender, and category. By using this feature, students can make informed choices about their future.

4. Authentic Communities: beingWise understands the importance of mentorship and support in the success of aspirants. Therefore, the platform provides Authentic Communities that allow students to get in touch with other students from all colleges, including Tier-1, Tier-2, and Tier-3 colleges, and private universities in India. This feature provides a P2P community that allows students to ask questions and get guidance from others in the field.

5. All Private Colleges Information: Sometimes students may not be able to secure a place in government-funded institutes, which can be discouraging. To help students explore other options, beingWise offers information about all private colleges in India. This feature ensures that students are aware of all available options and can make informed decisions about their education.

6. Scholate: Scholarships can be a significant financial aid for students and their families. However, finding the right scholarships can be challenging. To help students find the available scholarships across the globe, beingWise provides Scholate. This feature provides complete information about all available scholarships and helps students apply for them effectively.
